Promoting diversity through creating links with a local Primary school.

Diversity means differences. People can be different in many ways. If the way someone else thinks or looks is different to you, it doesn't mean those things are wrong. Simply, just different. As a way to promote diversity we have created links with Broadheath Primary school and over the past 6 months we have been interacting with the year 6 students playing various sports. Our service is keen to promote inclusivity for our service users, breaking the stereotype of 'disabilities' and promoting abilities over disabilities. In addition, Broadheath Primary recently welcomed a number of international students to their school. Creating links with the school is a way of actively breaking down the barriers within the Trafford community, encouraging both our service users & the students in being accepting of people's differences, whether it be differences in ability, cultural differences or inclusivity for people with disabilities. It is also an opportunity for a group of young students and young adults to work together & hopefully take this experience with them into their future continuing on with being accepting of each other for our differences.
